cardiotech x5 manual

Only found on quality treadmills. A topline feature usually only reserved for health club machines many times the price. Stay motivated watching those calories burn! Works with Smart Phone, MP3, Tablet. You can even program your favourite journey. Speed up to 14 kph. Mat size 121cm long, 41cm wide. Easy to use with keys at 0% 5% 10% 15%. Plus speed activated Heart Rate Control program for optimum results. My main piece of equipment was a CardioTech X5 treadmill. It was really a life saver on the days I was feeling less confident or when my energy levels were a bit low at least I could run as long as I wanted and then stop. It took me 18 months to achieve this but gained a lifetime of happiness. Talk to our sales team today. Means you can shop with confidence. Or, call 1300 135 596 7 days a week. By routinely applying Silicone Lubricant to your deck you are reducing the risk of damage, and adding longevity to your treadmill. This may decrease slippage, roughness and improve overall performance of the treadmill and running belt. Like Share More 1 answer Cardio T. Cardiotech 3 months ago Hi Sarah, Power cords are available from your local hardware stores and electrical stores and thanks for getting in contact with us directly yesterday too. Thanks, CardioTech Like Report Jen P. asked 3 months ago Hi there. Brought a 2nd hand cardio tech 9x pro 2 and it has been a dream up until last Friday. Ran for half an hour and noticed my 2% incline changed to 0% and felt the deck lower. When I tried to turn it up the buttons would not work. Then I couldn't slow down the machine using both up and down buttons, then the stop button wouldn't work resulting in me pulling the safely thing off. Started the machine up on Sunday and it worked like a dream, until this morning displaying the same problems. I really love this machine and am hard at running right now so don't want to be without. Any suggestions on what to do. The sticker at the front says manufactured in 2015. It starts and stops in 12 secs. Every time it does this power to the console is cut off. When I changed the fuse, the power comes back to the console and when I start the treadmill it stops in 12 secs and blows the fuse. Machine turns off by itself after a certain time Like Share More 1 answer Cardio T. Cardiotech 5 months ago HI Jacqui, you can purchase multipurpose silicone spray from your local hardware store and this is the easiest to apply. Any issues contact us on 1300135596 as Product Review is not a part of CardioTech and not monitored. Like Report Greg T asked 7 months ago Hi, I have a 2nd hand cardiotech x9 which is over 10 years old and hardly used. It was my brothers so know the machine. The belt started slipping after I had done about 50 kms interval training on it.

The belt was correct tension, I lubricated it with Silicone spray but still slipped. Tightening belt made no difference. I'm fairly competent with mechanics so stripped off the belt, rollers and deck, cleaned all residue with a wire brush and metho on rollers and hot, soapy water on belt and deck, all seemed too greasy. Reassembled, still slipped. I saw a cheap one for sale locally, bought it and proceeded to swap bits til I discovered my brothers front roller was slipping. Roller from second machine rectified the problem. Seemed odd, I couldn't feel any movement between the roller and attached drive pulley but there you go. The donor machine was well used but was working fine til it gave a bang and threw the rcds in my shed. No idea what caused that but, anyway, have one good working one. I like the product, had another older one, also 2nd hand and it got hammered for years before it finally died. Sorry for the ramble, thought you'd be interested. Is that unusual for the front roller. I'd also like a manual, do you sell them separately. Also, do these machines have a fuse and where is it, please Thanks. Oh, and I've ordered some proper silicone lubricant, think the 3in 1 Silicon Spray Lubricant I've been using is too greasy. I had the first machine for probably 10 years and think I lubed it once, it was great. Regards, Greg Like Report Greg T 7 months ago I contacted the support team, they sent me a pdf manual in literally three minutes. Most impressed. Regards Greg Like Report Jaz asked 7 months ago Hi, I brought a second hand breakfree, they said they only used it about 56 times in the couple years they had it. But ever since I got it it's so noisy when walking or running. Kind of like a creaking noise when stepping on it. Can the tension be adjusted tighter. The up button is fully up. I need a replacement power chord. Are you able to help please. Like Report BEC D. asked 1 year ago What the difference between the x5 and x9 treadmill. Where can I find a manual for it.Hmmmm still thinking Like Share More No answers Leanne Leggett asked 2 years ago I've got a break free machine and it won't power in. I turn the button to on and no light comes on. What am I doing wrong. ProductReview.com.au has affiliate partnerships. I have Googled, but cant find one. It is a Cardiotech BreakFree X3. If you have a copy of the manual for a similar model X5, X9 then that could work too. Thanks in anticipation. And I suspect they might not help me as I didnt purchase the treadmill from them. Seeing as EB is helpful with other things, I was trying my luck here Its easy! Sign in here.
